BUG FIXES

- Fixed an issue where the Form Builder could fail to open in the latest version of Google Chrome (version 158), showing an "XSLTProcessor is not defined" error instead of the builder.
- Fixed an issue where saving a form's processing page could fail with a "Something went wrong" error.
- Fixed an issue where respondents could intermittently see an error page after submitting a form in a multi-form workflow, even though their submission had been received.
